just add honey tea company

We miss your beautiful faces AND we miss having parTEAs with you. So... we've created the perfect parTEA checklist. Throw on your finest threads, turn on the teapot, and let's parTEA!

PARTEA BITES

The perfect parTEA has::
savories {cucumber sandwiches}
scones {clotted cream and lemon curd}
sweets {the prettier -the better}

Try your hand at any one of these dishes to create the perfect spread!

TIME FOR TEA

Tea time is whenever you're ready to sip! Fancy without the fuss...
Traditional TEA TIME is anytime between 2 to 5pm. Time in between lunch and supper.
Tea and light bites are served that are not a complete meal but filling and do not require cutlery

WHAT'S IN YOUR CUP

May we suggest a lovely cup of::

- earl grey cream {with a splash of milk}
- southern sweet {it already has lemon in it!}
- jasmine {a light and floral green tea}
- mint to be {refreshing hot or iced}

HIGH TEA? LOW TEA? AFTERNOON TEA?

LOW TEA is the proper name for what we now call "High Tea". Confusing, huh? The name came from the height of the table. Low side tables is where the ladies of leisure would sip tea and enjoy light bites. HIGH TEA was dinner {higher table} and enjoyed by the lower class. We say AFTERNOON TEA so no one is right or incorrect.

INVITE A FRIEND

parTEAs are a fun social occasion to catch up, check in, and share. Host a virtual tea party, FaceTime chat, or stay 6ft away while sipping. We love any excuse to check in with our tea loving friends!

BE FLEXIBLE

Don't strive for a perfect set table or fresh flowers from a local nursery. Part of the fun is just creating a moment with a cup of tea. Everything else is your supporting cast. Turn on your teapot and sip.
